EXPRESSIONS OF COMMON PEOPLE

The Tyler name will be perpetuated in Louisville. And why not? Levi Tyler left behind blocks of real estate as his monument. Henry S. Tyler left a record of two terms as Mayor without a flaw. Owen Tyler, banker, manager of a vast heritage and authority on municipal affairs, is adding to the fame of the name of Tyler. When he retires from the office of Mayor Louisville will be broader in spirit, better in government, the pride of Kentucky and the Queen City of the Southland.

Before the next issue of the Kentucky Irish American reaches its readers the result of Tuesday's election will be known. Today the friends of the Democratic ticket feel assured of victory, but they should see to it that every vote is got out to swell the majority and stamp Louisville a Democratic city. Into this campaign the Republicans have dragged all manner of abuse and weeks and was most thorough he the villification, even entering churches to create religious hatred The examination was conducted by and dissension. They have also attempted to disrupt organized labor, unable to discover even a trivial clertheir convention. Failing in these and the effort to cause race preindice the Permitters of the examiner of judice, the Republican leaders have become desperate and are ready to resort to any tactics that might add to their vote. But the people of Louisville are "on to" them, and will see that the best municipal ticket ever presented receives a tremendous

Only lack of space prevents reference to each candidate, but our readers are urged to scan the list that appears on another page, which rep resents the best that is in Louisville Of course most has been said of Hon. Owen Tyler, who heads the ticket for Mayor, but every word uttered in his behalf applies with equal force to the others on the ticket with him. The names of Marion Ripy, Louis Stein, Thomas Shelley, John R. Pflanz, Lyne Herndon, Dan H. Russell, John M. Mulloy, Nathan Uri, James Reedy, Dr. Charles Moir, Robert J. Hagan, Walter Ratcliffe Charles D. Greer, Mike Tynan, John M. Adams, William J. O'Connor, William A. Perry, Harry W. Robinson, P. Sullivan, William J. O'Hearn, Thomas Moran, William J. Preuss Joseph Hubbuch, Sr., Dan J. Dough erty, Ben J. Sand, W. H. Newman John J. O'Brien, Thomas J. Morrow C. J. Ford and the others give every assurance of a business administration that will make for Louisville's greater growth and prosperity. For Park Commissioners and School Trustees the Democratic candidates are men of the highest business and educational standing, in whose control our interests will be safe.

During the past week the Republicans, realizing that their cause is hopeless, have resorted to the cry of fraud and the importation of repeaters. For this they have no ground whatever, and a careful survey of the places where they gather shows that this time the tough element is with them. This will be apparent to any one who will look over their gatherings on the street corners and in a number of places where the lawless element are wont to congregate. Thursdy the representative the Kentucky Irish American in a short trip met many of our best citizens, all for Tyler and the ticket, a few of whom expressed themselves as follows: "When one thinks of Owen Tyler there is no suggestion of hypocrisy. His career has been one of success, and it is one that some of his detractors may well envy." "Owen Tyler believes in a 'Greater Louisville.' Some of the alleged leaders who are seeking to encom pass his defeat ought to organize themselves into a club for 'lesser Louisville.' "Barnacles and fogyism in general to the rear. Owen Tyler's election means the defeat of deception and the triumph of truth. Frankness, school sincerity and home rule are the slogans of his campaign. "Owen Tyler will deny no man the privileges which belong to him. Personal liberty is a privilege and an issue in this contest."

COUNTY BOARD

Takes Initial Step For Celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

The County Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians met Tuesday Walnut street, and the session was he most important and interesting held for some months past. President Murphy occupied the chair and delegates from all the divisions were present. The Finance Committee ubmitted its final report of the receipts and disbursements of the last elebration, showing a handsome urplus. Many tickets are yet in the ands of members, for which returns should be at once made to the divison or Secretary Connelly.

Divisions 1, 3 and 4 offered their uarterly reports, each having made ains in both finances and membership. Division 3 made the best financial showing, but Division 4 was warded the honor for membership. Communications from State Secre ary Hunt and National Secretary arroll were read and their requests referred to the divisions.

A movement for the celebration of t. Patrick's day was inaugurated the appointment of Thomas D. Clines, Con. J. Ford, D. J. Coleman and Will J. Connelly as a special committee to consider the various suggestions made and report at the next meeting. The matter of organizing a marching club to at end the national convention Indianapolis next July was freely discussed, resulting in each division being authorized to form its own club. When these are organized a committee will be appointed to procure a uniform costume for the marchers. Delegates from Division 3 request ed that the County Board take some action in regard to the study of history in the parochial schools, especially in those where the majority of the pupils are of Irish parentage. After an interesting discussion the board adjourned the dead will begin at 8:30 o'clock,

In his instructions he paid a merited tribute of respect to the memory of Mrs. Allen, whose strong faith was a shining example to many. She was born in County Kerry, Ireland, and visited her old Frank Dugan, the genial Inspector of Weights and Measures, was stricken with pneumonia and for three weeks has been confined to his home on Sixth street in a serious condition. Thursday he underwent a favorable change, which gives hope for his speedy and entire recovery.

HARRY W. ROBINSON

In the State Senate Will Be of Splendid Service to Louisville.

Most people in Louisville will recognize Harry Robinson in the picture above, as few men are more popular or better known, and as nominee of the Democratic party for the Senate, from the Thirty-seventh district, comprising the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards, from Shelby to Fifth streets and the river to the city limits, a wiser choice could scarcely have been made. His education and ability and the fact that he has been a member of the Louisville bar for a number of years make him especially adapted for the work ahead of him. His friends are numbered in al walks of life, and his popularity with all classes seems to make his election "ssured. Chairman Raidy read an additional list of donations for the charity euchre and said its success was assured.

INSTITUTE TOMORROW.

Tomorrow the Knights of Columus will institute a splendid council of that order at Lebanon, for which event the Catholics of that place have been making preparation for several weeks. A special train will leave the Tenth-street station in the morning and will carry about a hundred Knights. Upon arriving at Lebanon the Knights and candidates will attend mass at St. Augustine's church. After dinner the new body will be instituted and the degrees conferred by teams selected from Louisville Council. The whole will conclude with a banquet, at which some of the most prominent Cath-olics in the State will deliver ad-

CAMPAIGN WAS ON HIGH PLANES

The campaign for State offices conducted by the political parties is about at an end. Within a few days the will of the people of Kentucky will have been recorded at the polls under regulations of the election statutes. Nothing that might be written at this time will likely have the effect of changing a vote for or against either ticket. The voters have listened patiently to argument and have been campaigned with through the publication of official and court records placed in their hands and through personal letters from candidates and their advocates and friends. What has been accomplished through these methods can only be positively known after the balloting has ceased and the votes have been counted. It only remains to the loyal Kentuckian and good citizen to vote, and urge his neighbor to cast his vote, for the upbuilding and for the safe government of his Commonwealth, and to not permit passion and prejudice to mar his vision when he goes into the election ooth to exercise his right of suf-

On the eve of election it will be well for the voter to commune with himself. If he believes in the principles enunciated by one of the great parties his vote should be cast in toward the advancement of Louis-ville and is ever ready to assist in making our city the greatest in the South, and while he has a large law practice it is a well known fact that no poor man who needs protec-tion in a legal way ever leaves his of the party of his preferment. This is a day of measures and policies, action because he can not pay a support of that party. office because he can not pay a not mere individuals, and every true fee in advance. Mr. Robinson was born and reared in Louisville and comes from an old and respected family, and his standing here is of or disapproves of the candidacy of some one or two men whose names been most friendly toward the are beneath the emblem of the party working classes, and they will find of his choice. Mr. Bryan, the great in him all that goes to make the Democratic leader in national affairs, probably the man closest to the great masses of the people of the United States, dealt with this means one step toward sending to matter when in Kentucky some the Senate a man who could not weeks ago. He took the position stoop to dishonor and whose ideals that a man who has the good of his State and country at heart can not afford to refuse to support the political party in whose principles he believes because of any one plank of its platform or because of any individual who is a candidate upon its ticket; that the party is far greater than the man, and that because a man can not get all taht he wants in measures and in policies he can not afford to reject the party as a whole or in part. In determining which party, the Democratic or the Republican, he will support in this election to select to the officials of his State government the intelligent voter will conan affair of his own business or of his immediate household. He wants to put into the Governor's chair and into the management of the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth the same class of men he would engage to manage his business should he need assistance. He wants to put there men who will manage the big affairs of State to the best interest of its great citizenship, not men who merely want the offices for what there is in them or to be gotten out of them. The people of Kentucky are as well acquainted with financia conditions in the State and the use to which their money has been pu as are the candidates and orator who have been speaking to them for six weeks past. Trinity Council's Club House MEN'S HABERDASHERY a Pleasant Surprise to Members.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., held a well attended and interesting meeting Tuesday night, when the noprovements just completed in the club house were much of a surprise to the members. The hall has been newly decorated and a new floor laid and now presents a most inviting appearance, giving Trinity as nice and comfortable quarters as any in the city. For the purpose of a general opening to the public and the inauguration of the winter social season the council will on next Thursday night give one of its popu-After the games there will be dane ng, and a large gathering is looked for. but the committee expects to make this one surpass any yet given. The Ways and Means Committee are continuing their work of preparation for the erection of the new club house, and from reports are meeting with much encouragement. Early in the spring the contracts will be let, and it is expected that in the fall Trinity will occupy its own home. During the next few months a number of entertainments will be given, the proceeds of which will be added to the building fund.

The committee having charge of these affairs includes Joseph Bell, Frank Pilson, A. J. Schneider, Clem A. Ellert, Jerome J. Driscoll, Tom Newman, Edward Kealty, Dr. B. J. Lammers, V. K. FATHER ROCK EXPECTED.

The Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock, who has been in Virginia for his health, is expected to return to the city today. For some time Father Rock has been a sufferer from bronchial troubles, and it is said it will be some time before he can resume his pastoral duties. For past fifteen years he has been at the Cathedral, where much anxiety is felt for his recovery.

COUNTY BOARD.

Will Arrange For Observance of St. Patrick's Day.

The Jefferson County Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians has been called to meet at Odd Fellow's Hall, Sixth and Walnut, next Tuesday night. County President Murphy will then inaugurate plans for a proper public observance of St. Patrick's day, March 17 next, and it is certain that a number of committees will be appointed. From him our representative learned that it was the intention o celebrate the feast of Erin's patron aint on a more elaborate scale than or many years past. The board will also have for consideration a number of communications from the national officers, some of which deal with the order in this city and State. President Murphy says the reports from other cities are very encouraging and that with united effort the Hibernians of Kentucky can easily double their number. Another subject that will be discussed will be the proposed visitation to In-dianapolis when the National convenon meets there next year, when it is hoped the four local divisions will turn out in the big parade at least 500 strong. All the delegates are urged to attend this meeting.

> After long and patient suffering, borne with Christian fortitude, Miss Ada Dillon, one of the best known Catholic young women in the city, passed to eternal happiness Monday night at her home, 2612 Bank street. Miss Dillon was the daughter of Frank Dillon, inspector for the Louisville Railway Company, and had only recently returned from the West, where she went in the hope of being restored to health. She was a member of the Altar Society and one of the most active workers for the Church of Our Lady in Portland, which has sustained a distinct loss. The funeral was held Thursday morning with a solemn mass of requiem, when Rev. Father Conniff paid a tribute to Miss Dillon's memory that brought tears to the eyes of the many who heard him.

Mackin Council Responds to Appeal For Philippine Missions.

Tuesday night there was a good gathering of members at the meeting of Mackin Council, who added to the reputation of that splendid body of Catholic young men by voting handsome donation to assist the missionaries who are doing earnest work for the church in the Philippines. President Sand, who is a candidate for Councilman on the Democratic ticket, had been called upon to address a mass meeting and was unable to be present and John Kinney occupied the chair. Three new members were elected, the leaders of the two teams announcing that they would have a class of between thirty and forty candidates for the initiation next month. This will put the membership far beyond the 500 mark. Chairman Charles Raidy stated that enough tickets had been sold to make the charity euchre to be given next week a social and financial sucess, but urged all to keep working, as this will be the only one given this year. The Social Club announced its dance for Monday night and invited all the members and their what more could you ask? friends to attend.

JUBILEE BANQUET

Catholic Knights Celebrate FALLS CITY MEAT MARKET Anniversary Thursday Evening.

The members of Branch 262, C. K of A., their ladies and a number of clergymen and invited guests gathered Thursday night in St. Peter's streets, to attend the banquet held by the branch in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization. President Anton Dietmeir and a committee received the guests and escorted them to the hall, which was tastefully decorated and illuminated for the occasion. The banquet was an elaborate one and was delightfully served.

Frank X. Wolpert, the genial Sec retary of Branch 262 and a widely known member of the order, presided in a very happy manner, and toasts were responded to by Newton G. Rogers, State Secretary Albert F. Martin, Major Gen. Michael Reichert, Dr. William B. Doherty, Urban Stengel, Edward Neuhaus and others. The addresses were well received and the many good works of the branch were warmly applauded. Not until a late the gathering disperse when all joined in a Te Deum of praise for St. Peter's branch and its continued prosperity.

BRAVE CORPORAL.

Many comments are being heard by ye-witnesses of the desperate battle between the police and negro desperado Burdine on Wednesday and the special bravery shown by Cor-poral Edward McElliott, who engaged in a pistol duel with the negro standing in the open, while Burdine was protected by the corner of a brick wall, and it was chiefly instrumental through this officer that the negro was caught and subdued after a fierce struggle. His friends all say that you can always count on Corporal "Ed" to show the Irish that

ILL BUT ONE DAY.

It was a painful surprise to the friends of Arthur West, the eighteenyear-old son of Henry West, 2721 Elliott avenue, when they learned Saturday that he died after one day's illness from abscess of the brain, resulting from earache. His condition was not regarded serious until a few hours before death, when West complained of intense pain in his head. His funeral took place from St. Charles' church, Rev. Father Raffo officiating at the solemn obsequies
